I NEED HELP. . .

- ? I think my drinking might be out of control, who can I talk to about it?
- ? I'm not sure I have a drug problem, but someone (judge, probation officer, boss, caseworker) has told me I need to get an evaluation. Who should I call?
- ? I have a family member who is using drugs, but he/she won't listen to me and get help. What can I do?
- ? I've been abusing pain pills for a long time. My life is a mess and I want help. Where do I start?

Help is available for alcohol and other drug problems in Lancaster County. Here's how you can find help for yourself or a loved one.

Option One: If you believe you are in withdrawal and in need of detox services, call White Deer Run Call Center at (866) 769-6822 or Pennsylvania Adult and Teen Challenge at (844) 888-8085. Or call one of the outpatient clinics listed in this brochure to get the process started. They will complete a D&A screening over the phone.

Option Two: If detox is not appropriate, meet with an outpatient counselor who will complete an evaluation and make a treatment recommendation. They will also help you determine how to pay for your treatment.

How do I pay for treatment?

Do you have Insurance, an HMO, Medical Assistance, OR Veteran's Benefits?

Yes, I have. . . Insurance or HMO - Most insurance companies cover D&A treatment. Contact your company to determine what is covered and how to properly access this benefit. It is important that you follow the correct procedures. In some cases, pre-authorization from the HMO is required. Also, some D&A facilities will assist you in working with your insurance company.

Veterans Benefits - Most military veterans are eligible for D&A treatment services. Both the Lebanon and Coatesville VA Hospitals provide D&A treatment services. Call (800) 409-8771 Ext. 4543.

Private Pay - If you have the ability to pay for your D&A treatment, you may choose any facility you can afford.

No. . . If you think you may need inpatient detoxification, call White Deer Run Call Center at (866) 769-6822 or Pennsylvania Adult and Teen Challenge at (844) 888-8085 for a short phone assessment. If you are appropriate for detox, they will begin a bed search to look for treatment accommodations for you. They will also help you determine if you are eligible for County funding, or help you determine how to pay for your treatment.

If you do not need detox, but you think you may need inpatient rehab, call and make an appointment with an outpatient clinic for an evaluation and a financial liability review.

Frequently Asked Questions

Can someone who refuses treatment be “committed”? Adults cannot be committed for drug and alcohol treatment. There are limited circumstances where adolescents can be committed by their parents through Act 53, which requires legal intervention.

I was arrested for DUI in another state and told I need to take some kind of class. Who do I call? Contact Lancaster County Adult Probation Unit at (717) 299-8181.

My child is still in high school and I am worried that she may be beginning to experiment with drugs. Who should I call? Contact your child’s guidance counselor or school nurse and ask for a referral to the Student Assistance Program at her school.

My child was arrested for underage drinking and told he needs to take a class. Who do I call? Contact Compass Mark at (717) 299-2831.

My insurance company is refusing to pay for addictions treatment. What can I do? Act 106 of 1989 requires that most commercial group health plans, HMOs, and CHIP provide comprehensive treatment for alcohol and other drug addictions. If you are having trouble accessing this benefit, send an email to dasdbeck@hotmail.com with “Act 106” in the subject line.
